

CASUALTY CITY:

THE REUNION A comic by Ellen Dean

10 YEARS ON AND A LOT HAS CHANGED ON THE WARDS OF "CASUALTY CITY"...

Lara's on thirty grand a year (and can now name all six cerebellar signs without help)

But some things never change: the nurses still wear stupid uniforms and make shit money

Nina's pushing the boundaries of political correctness as the BBC's first Hispanic lesbian doctor

Nurse Ken? Mr Branson needs his enema...

YES DR TARA-POMPKINSON, RIGHT AFTER I'VE FINISHED CLEANING THE SLUICE

WHAT EVEN IS A SLUICE?

DROP DEAD YOU FAT PLASTIC BITCH...

WOW, OPPOSABLE THUMBS!

What did you ever see in that vain Oxbridge Freak?

I think it was the power thing... Until he got struck off for shagging his bipolar patients, that is. And he's got a big schlong

LATER:

Would you love me even if I were a nurse?

Don't be silly, darling! Of course I wouldn't

And so conclude our adventures at "Casualty City": we've seen ethnic minorities marginalised, nursing staff humiliated, and girl-on-girl loving turned into a running joke... pretty much what you'd expect on the NHS. But don't despair, you can still get your fix of CC online - just head to www.casualtycity.blogspot.com for more silly doll fun!

THE END!
